Analyzing Investigations Detecting Deception

USING STATEMENT ANALYSIS & OBTAINING CONFESSIONS

Jackson, Tennessee May 19-23, 2003

This Course is a necessary course for all Supervisors, Detectives, and Officers who need to be able to evaluate investigations, interviews, and statements.

This Course Includes:

- Brief History of Investigative Training and Thinking
- Define Detective Template and demonstrate need in investigations
- Identifying the “Universal Pattern” that must be followed during all investigations
- Identifying the “Factors” and “Rules” used in all well managed investigations
- Demonstrating the methodology for evaluating the truthfulness of statements

*The Participants will be able to demonstrate what went wrong and when in a wide variety of high-profile cases (Chappaquiddick, O.J. Simpson, and Jon Benet Ramsey) as well as other cases (rapes, robberies, and frauds).

The goal of the course is to allow investigators to communicate concisely with one another through the use of a common language. In return, there will be a decrease in occurrence of misunderstanding and increase in officer communication effectiveness.

Training will include lecture and “Tell-Show-Do” practical exercises.
